Salesforce Master-Detail Relationship: A Comprehensive Guide

Author: Stephanie Di girolamo   Date: 2023-04-03

For successful implementation, the master-detail relationship should support reparenting. However, during record creation, users must manually fill in the field as a detail record cannot exist without a master record. It is possible for the user to have access to Any reason not to use Lookups instead of Master-Details for Junction object?

Question:

In order to establish connections between n entities, a Linker/ Junction object that has two pointers is necessary. The Salesforce documentation suggests utilizing a pair of Master-Detail relationships.

Are there any reasons to avoid using two Lookups instead?
